1pm – 3pm

GESU SCHOOL

1700 W. Thompson St.
Philadelphia, PA 19121

Moderator, David Hardy
Excellent Schools PA

Always seeking to improve education for all of America's inner-city children, Gesu School launched our symposium in 1997 to bring together donors, stakeholders, policymakers, and educators to tackle the tough issues in urban education. The annual event brings together top thought leaders to stimulate productive conversation and empower educators and the community for our work in the field.

Sponsorship underwrites event costs, ensuring that Gesu can remain an educational thought leader through hosting innovative conversations free of charge to the public.

ABOUT THE SPEAKER

Pedro Noguera is the Distinguished Professor of Education at the Graduate School of Education and Information Studies at UCLA. His research focuses on the ways in which schools are influenced by social and economic conditions, as well as by demographic trends in local, regional, and global contexts. He is the author of eleven books and over 200 articles and monographs. He serves on the boards of numerous national and local organizations and appears as a regular commentator on educational issues on CNN, MSNBC, National Public Radio, and other national news outlets. He has served as a tenured professor and holder of endowed chairs at NYU, Harvard, and UC Berkeley.
